Question & Answer
Regarding Apprentice Day Class Postponement

Please read thru the following Q & A to answer any further questions you may have surrounding this apprentice class changes. If you still have questions after reading through this sheet, contact the JATC office staff or your instructor for clarification. Thanks!

Q: Classes are cancelled! I don't have to do anything until we come back to class, right?
   A: Wrong. Classes are postponed until further notice. But you will still have online homework assignments due for your class.

Q: Can we go to work on our class day now?
   A: Yes! If your jobsite is still open and your contractor is still asking for you to be at work you can work as necessary until face-to-face classes start up again.

Q: When is the mid-term?
   A: The first day you come back to face-to-face classes. All the online homework is preparing you for your test, take it seriously.

Q: I never got an email regarding the class postponements and the details, why?
   A: Are you registered with our JATC website? If so, and you still didn't receive an email, check your junk mail. If you are not signed up, go to our website ASAP and register so you will receive communication going forward. Also, check the website and Facebook page daily for any updates that might be posted.

Q: How do I turn in homework?
   A: As of right now, homework will be turned in via Blended Learning. If all else fails and you cannot get the homework submitted on there, email your assignment to your instructor before or by the due date.

Q: When is the next face-to-face class session?
   A: TBD. But our office staff will keep everyone in the loop with updates on an exact date once we have one. Check our Facebook page and the website for updates.
Q: When will I know the grade of my mid-term?
   A: Grades will be sent out via Remind.

Q: How is this all going to work?
   A: With constant communication we will be able to keep everyone in the loop on information. We understand going to online only is a huge adjustment and will take some time to get used to but our staff is fully prepared to help you in any way that we can. Make sure you are staying in contact with your instructor and letting them know if you have any issues submitting homework. This is not a vacation from school work, you still have due dates and you need to take those seriously.

Q: Is Power Hour still going to happen?
   A: No. As of right now all face-to-face classes or groups are postponed. If you have questions please email them to your instructor and they can try to walk you through it or give you a call.

Q: Will I still get credit for school hours?
   A: Yes. If you have your homework turned in by the due date provided by your instructor that counts as a full day of class (8 hours). If you miss the due date, you would be marked absent for a full day of class.
